

FAQ: Yearbook Pose Selection

#1

When you first enter your gallery, you will see all of your poses, arranged in a grid format. There may be more images available below the bottom of the screen. Use the scrollbar in the upper right side of the screen to scroll down to see more images.

#2

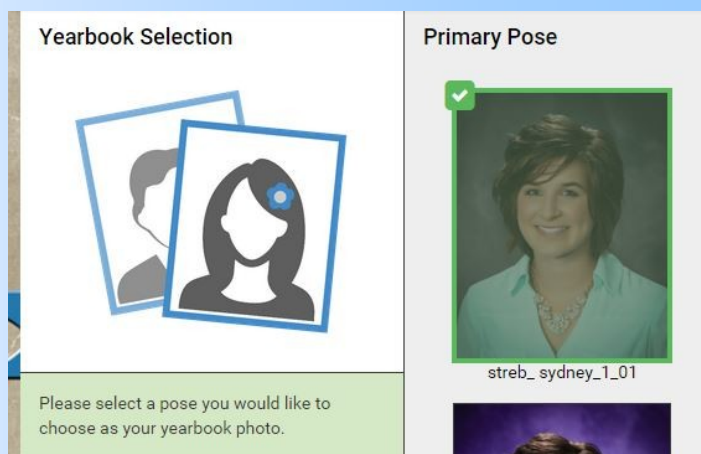

To make your yearbook pose selection, first click on the red banner near the bottom left side of the screen.

#3

Then click on the image you would like to use for your yearbook pose. A green checkmark will appear on the image you chose. Most schools require a head-and-shoulders pose on a gray background (like the one shown here). Check the Welcome Message, shown when you first enter your gallery for specifics about your school. (to return to the welcome message, close your browser and reenter your gallery.)

#4

When you see the green checkmark in the corner of the pose you want, click the green SAVE banner at the lower right of the screen... your choice will be saved. There is nothing more you need to do for your yearbook.

If you change your mind, simply click on another image. You can change your mind as often as you want, until the selection deadline, also mentioned in the Welcome Message.

You can make your yearbook pose selection either before or after, or even at the same time as you are placing your portrait order. You do not need to order photos to make your yearbook pose choice.
